THE IDEAL YARN REEL

IN OPERATION.

We have perfected a little gem of a Reel; so simple, light and durable, all want it. No more arms aching holding yarn, or vexation trying to wind from backs of chairs. Fasten reel onto a chair, or table, or window sill, by means of the clamp, and then lengthen the arms to hold whatever you want to wind. Screw the thumb-screw on the top down firm and proceed to wind.

IMPROVED

TURKISH RUG PATTERNS.

The appearance of a rug depends almost entirely upon the excellence of the design or guide pattern used in making it. A poor pattern is worse than useless, for it encourages a waste of material and loss of time in working it. Our improved patterns are undoubtedly the best that are made, being printed in rich colors which become a practical and simple guide for the worker.

The designs are printed on the cloth itself, not on paper to be copied, and are especially intended for producing the rich effect of the costly Turkish and Persian fabrics. With our lately invented and improved machine a good sized rug may be made in a day, and an ottoman in two or three hours by any one experienced in its use; and being very simple it does not take long to gain that experience.

After the rug is worked the surface may be sheared or clipped off, leaving the "pile" about ⅜ of an inch above the pattern as in the best Persian carpets.

When neatly done they are equally as durable and handsome as the genuine imported goods.

CHICAGO, June 18,

THE GIBBS MF'G CO.,

Gents: I now take orders for rug making with the Jewel Machine and do splendidly with it.

Respectfully yours, L.

DIXON, Ill., March 9,

THE GIBBS MF'G CO.,
88 State St., Chicago, Ills.

If any one deserves success you do, as your Patterns and Machines are lovely—better than you represent, and more than give satisfaction. One of my neighbors will soon send you an order.

Very respectfully, Miss T. G.

The above cut represents the manner of placing our Patterns in the frame for working. Take 4 slats similar to bed slats. Place them as shown in cut. Then fasten corners together with our improved clamps, having the inside large enough to hold the pattern and about two inches between pattern and frame, so as to stretch the pattern. Then, after hemming the pattern sew it into frame as shown in the cut, stretching tightly and square. Then proceed to work the pattern by following the lines with the various colors designated.

Should you have any trouble, write us at once.

Material Used in Working the Patterns.

Every household has its supply of odds and ends, rags and ravelings, which can be woven into articles of beauty and utility. Each good housekeeper has a pardonable pride in adorning her home and adding to its comforts, and we bring her a means of doing it with little expense and most satisfactory results. The few leisure hours devoted to such work, and the light labor it entails, are amply repaid by the knowledge she gains of colors and their arrangements, as well as by the elegant additions she has made to her household treasures. Rags worked into the proper patterns with the improved rug machine produce very rich and handsome rugs and ottomans, having a tapestry effect which gives no suggestion of the cheapness of the material.

If the colors desired are not at hand, we can furnish dyes by which anyone can readily color wool or rags to suit her plans.

Some prefer to work colored yarn with their rags, others use fancy yarns altogether. In the latter case it may be estimated that it will require from one-quarter to one-half pound of yarn to every square foot of canvas worked according as you want the article lighter or heavier. One-half pound of good yarn to the square foot will make a rug nearly three-quarters of an inch thick.

Colored Rug Yarn.

Yarn especially manufactured for this purpose is kept in stock by us, can be supplied in any quantity and sent to any part of the country upon receipt of the list price.

The average amount of yarn required to fill our patterns is shown in the following list; but for the weight of each separate color we refer you to our yarn list on pages 19 to 30.

Harmony of Colors.

We have found by observation and experience, that in order to produce rich and tasteful results in any colored work, it is necessary to have the pattern colors selected with care by those accustomed to such work. To make success certain in all cases we have, as before remarked, carefully laid out a scale of orders for each pattern we sell, and made it so plain that a child can readily understand and reproduce them. In order to do this, we have all these patterns worked in our extensive factory by experienced operators, and the colors carefully noted, thus giving our most inexperienced customers the benefit of the judgment of those skilled in such work.

This is the only house in the world that offers such advantages, and we are sure all our patrons will appreciate them.

Those buying patterns, may of course select their own colors if they have some plan of their own, and desire to do so.

New Branch of Industry.

Ladies and gentleman are no longer out of employment because there are no great factories or shops in their vicinity. Here is a means of producing many useful and ornamental articles which have heretofore only been made in the great manufacturing centers, or imported from other countries. With our simple and practical rug machine any one can, with small outlay for proper designs on canvas, and rags or yarns colored in accordance with the scale we have arranged, make the most elegant Turkish Rugs, Ottomans, Lap Robes, etc., which are equal to the imported goods in gorgeous coloring and popularity, and much more lasting in quality. These articles will be appreciated everywhere by the cultivated and wealthy, as well as the poor and humble, and find ready sale always.

Great Success for Agents.

On account of the great improvement in our rug machine, and the care we take in selecting and perfecting our patterns, agents are having wonderful success in selling them, and if you or any of your friends have time to devote to canvassing your neighborhood.

Very liberal discounts are given to agents, and, as every household is interested in this kind of work, nothing ever before introduced to the public has been so kindly received and attentively examined into. A sample rug shown will command the attention of any one.

This is an age of progress. A new and useful invention is brought out and put to practical use to-day; to-morrow something else is discovered, and things that were before deemed impossible are found to be simple and practical. The strongest characteristic of the American people is their promptness to avail themselves of every advantage offered by new and useful inventions. They do not hesitate or grieve over an old and time honored machine which has become a tradition; but, while thankful for the good it has done do not hesitate to lay it aside and adopt something better. This is the genius of our great republic; the guiding hand that has led it to the front rank of nations, and held its states firmly cemented together through all local convulsions or political storms.

THE JEWEL

Fabric Tufting Machine

Is so simple that any ten year old child can operate it successfully, and make any desired fabric, as Turkish Rugs, Ottomans, Curtains, Stair Carpets, Hoods, Mittens, Slippers, Lap Robes, Quilts, Piano Spreads or Table Covers, which have all the gorgeous appearance of the genuine Turkish or Persian designs, and are much more durable, though costing but a small fraction of what is paid for Smyrna or Constantinople goods. Ladies can employ their leisure hours at home in making beautiful and attractive articles for their own use or for sale, luxuries never before attainable.

The Perfected Machine is shown in the cut on first page, and we are proud to ask your attention to its good qualities, and the special reason why it is more practical than any device ever before invented for such purposes. As a matter of fact, no entirely satisfactory machine has ever before been invented for improving on the old method of "hooking" by hand.

Some have succeeded in making loops through coarse canvas, but they could not pack them closely together, or make even stitches. Their "Machines" were rude in construction and uncertain in their performance, promising much but practically accomplishing little.

No. 96—Large cluster of Roses in center panel; combination border, with handsome scrolls Size, ¾ by 1¼ yards; price, 60 cents.

No. 140—Turkish Design—Size, ⅔ by 1¼ yards; price, 55 cents.

No. 24—Life size cat lying on a carpet; unique rustic border in three colors, an easy and popular pattern. Size, ⅔ by 1⅛ yards; price, 50 cents.

No. 43—Lilies, Rosebuds and Pansies in center, surrounded by scroll of old gold and brown combined with Mosaic border. Size, ⅔ by 1⅛ yards; price, 50 cents.

Our invention solves the whole problem. It is strong and durable, all its working parts being made of the finest steel, exactly on the principle of a sewing machine.

With presser foot and automatic feed, it measures its own stitches and makes the loops perfectly regular in length and as closely together as desired.

By means of set-screws, the length of the stitch may be changed or the loops raised as high as required. It works as uniformly and certain as the sewing machine, and renders perfectly easy and practicable, that which until now has seemed impossible. What has been struggled for and suggested by others, has been attained by us and reduced to practice, and we are able to furnish our patrons with a perfect machine, which is so adjustable in its parts that it is capable of embroidering with the finest silk or working the coarsest rags on heavy canvas, making the "pile" an inch and a half high. None of these important qualities have ever before been possible in any machine.

At an enormous outlay, we have perfected this invention, and built special machinery for its manufacture on a large scale, so that we are now able to furnish it at a very low price. We desire to introduce it into every home in this country, well knowning that when once seen and understood, it has a certain road to success and universal use.

THE GIBBS MF'G CO. is the largest establishment in the world engaged in the manufacture and sale of machines for this class of work, and it is proposed to spare no labor nor expense in giving our patrons the full benefit of our unlimited facilities. We intend to establish an immense business in every State in the Union, for we know that such useful machines at such low prices, are not produced anywhere else.

No. 44—Dog, with border of Autumn Leaves. Size, ⅔ by 1⅛ yards; price 50 cents.

No. 45—Wreath of Roses and Lilies in center; border of Autumn leaves. Size, ⅔ by 1⅛ yards; price, 50 cents.

No. 46—Lion lying on ground; border of green, gold, scarlet and black. Size, ⅔ by 1⅛ yards; price 50 cents.

No. 47—Saddled Running Horse, and landscape in center, oak and maple leaves in border. Size, ⅔ by 1⅛ yards; Price, 50 cents.

Rapidity of Operation.

Remember that one great quality of our machine, is the rapidity with which it may be operated, and that a good-sized rug can easily be made in a day, or an ottoman cover in a couple of hours, by one who has had a little practice. An expert can operate it at the rate of 120 stitches or over, a minute, laying the loops perfectly regular and even, so as to need no trimming up afterward.

These machines are especially adapted for filling the patterns manufactured by us, but will answer equally as well for any other work of similar character.

Each machine is warranted, and put up in a neat box with full directions for operating it; and will be sent by mail prepaid to anyone sending us $2.00.

THE GIBBS MF'G CO.

I have canvassed with the Jewel Machine and have made more money from it than anything I ever took orders for. It is universally liked.

Yours, J. B.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 27th,

THE GIBBS MF'G CO., 88 State St.

Gentlemen: It gives me very great pleasure to add to the already numerous flattering testimonials which have appeared, speaking none of them too highly, of your celebrated Jewel Rug Machines and your beautiful designs of figure patterns, by means of which such handsome and useful rugs are made. I have had considerable experience in this branch of home industry, and with both profit and pleasure to myself have worked a great many Rugs and Ottomans. It was my good fortune to secure first prize for one of these at the State Fair in this city, made from one of your Turkish designs, and won golden opinions for the harmonious blending of its colors and its even and rich, velvety appearance. I often wonder why ladies who have leisure time do not more generally avail themselves of this pleasant and easy way of beautifying their homes with their own handiwork.

Respectfully yours,

MRS. J. M.

Gents: I have had experience with nearly all the rug machines on the market, and take pleasure in commending the Jewel Machine, manufactured by your company, as the best. The work done by it—the regulating stitches producing different changes, from embroidery to plain work—is perfect. I wish all ladies interested in Art Work were the owners of a Jewel Machine I know they would become as fascinated with the work as I am. N. L.

OUR IMPROVED CLAMPS.

You will observe by glancing at the above cut that we have the most practical, common sense clamp ever invented. It is so constructed that by placing sticks like broom handles in the sockets provided for that purpose you can have legs for quilting or other frames, thus avoiding the annoyance of your frames slipping off the backs of chairs. For any fancy work that needs to be stretched in frames, the legs can be made the right height to allow the work to be drawn over your lap, saving you the trouble of holding it in your hands, and for an innumerable number of useful things. So that every household should obtain at least one set of four at once; you will find use for them almost every day, and the price being so low everybody can buy them.
